CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE

when it comes to attending church services. God has instructed them of his way, but they have a different way that seems good to them.

God will one day be the judge of the world (Ecclesiastes 12:14), but fools judge themselves as right, regardless of how God judges them. The Israelites are a prime example, "In those days Israel had no king; everyone did as they saw fit" (Judges 21:25). They had no thought of any higher authority than their own. They simply did what they wanted to do, lived how they wanted to live, and practiced what they wanted to practice.

There is not a single person among us that doesn't have opinions. Opinions are fine if they are observed as opinions. When they are exalted as truths above God's truth, however, that is when opinions turn into sin. Let us not be prideful, let us not be exalted, let us not be stuck on self!

If we are "stuck on self" we will become fools. We must listen to the instruction of God and abide by it!

-Hunter
